-: ABS / SS PIPE AND JOINT'S :-

Lean Pipe I mainly known for high efficiency, high degree of variability, simple, economic, environmental-friendly design concept. It is widely used in various industrial manufacturing fields.

It can make individual work-tables, and also the combination of many work-tables to make production conveyor lines. Workshop equipments e.g. production line assemble stations, input material-tables, output material-tables, testing-tables and repair-tables etc.

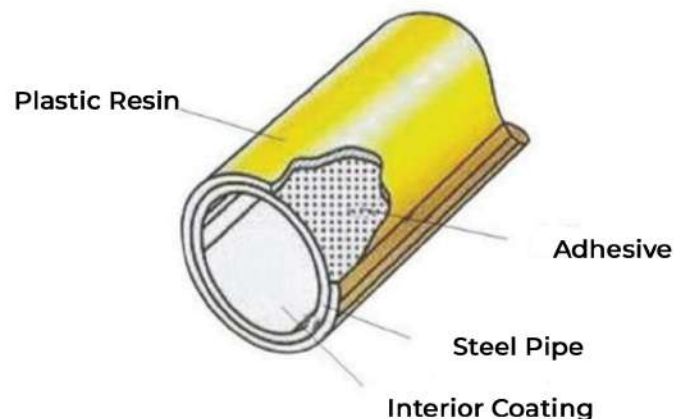

Material Carts (General multi-layer material loading carts, the general material distribution carts, and temporary carts, specially designed carts for mobile and other manufacturing industries).

Traditional Racks with Multi-layer shelves can be made. It can also make advanced racks with FIFO system which are very light-weight. These racks can also use skate-rails that make the flow of materials very fast, make it efficient and cost-effective by reducing the manpower requirement.

Material Rack (Structures for the general materials placement, temporary frame structures).

Business applications (commodity display, personalized display shelf, creative display)

Other applications (white board frame, flower rack, items placed racks, shelves, and creative application)
